EXPERIENCE

Social Media Manager, Texas Tech Gaming Club — 2020-2021

Responsible for managing the Twitter account of the Texas Tech Gaming Club, creating graphics to announce upcoming events, engaging with the community, and working with club leadership on social media.

Head Moderator & Community Manager, OverSimplified — 2018-2023

OverSimplified is a YouTube channel that takes major periods in history and condenses them down into comedic, animated videos that are easy to understand. Between 2018 and 2023 I have served as the head moderator on a volunteer basis for the official Discord chat server and Reddit community for OverSimplified. As part of my role, I had been responsible for managing a team of moderators, general community management, organizing community events, and various technical work.

Webmaster, TheFNaFArchive.org — 2018-Present

TheFNaFArchive.org is a fan website for the Five Nights at Freddy's franchise that serves as an archive of past media of the franchise, and that has been operated as a side project since its launch in 2018. As the sole maintainer of the website, it is my responsibility to keep the site up to date, expand the website with new sections, and to respond to user feedback. Since its launch, TheFNaFArchive.org has received millions of visitors and is regarded within the fan community as a valuable resource.

Developer, RetroPage.net — 2017-Present

RetroPage.net is a small website that serves as a heavily customizable start page, designed for the user to set as their homepage and allowing the user to easily get to where they need to go. RetroPage has been developed and maintained since 2017.

Content Manager, QHQ Inc — 2020 - Present

QHQ Inc is the company created to manage the operations for the large YouTube content creator and Twitch streamer, Quackity, the world's 29th largest Twitch streamer. During this time my responsibilities have included maintaining multiple channels, including entirely running a channel dedicated to archiving uncut livestream VODs, maintaining teams of people, heading new initiatives, and seeking feedback from fans.

Manager, Quackity Studios — 2023 - Present

Quackity Studios is an arm of QHQ Inc created to develop and maintain multiple projects, most notably the QSMP, a large-scale collaborative project within Minecraft in which players from around the world, with different cultures and languages build a world together. During my time at Quackity Studios, I have been involved in multiple areas, assisting to create content for the creators on the server including improvisational writing and role-play, event planning, in-game building, social media management, video graphic creation, graphic design, etc.

Director of Digital Media & Graphics, Eagle Nation Network, Prosper, Texas — 2016-2020

Created several custom graphics and graphics templates for live show and for online, developed social media marketing campaigns to engage students, managed social media channels, handled shading for live broadcast, created PSAs and other content, voiceover work, and miscellaneous technical consulting.
